*Have a safe & fun-filled
New Year's Eve,
and a Happy and Healthy New Year!*

In the British Isles a drink called wassail is served on New Year's. Wassail comes from the Anglo-Saxon toast "waes hael" or "be whole".

In Spain it is customary to eat 12 grapes at New Year's to bring good luck in the next 12 months.

"Should old acquaintance be forgot..."

Ever wonder what the heck we're singing about on New Year's Eve? "Auld Lang Syne" means "good old days" in a Scottish dialect. Next time you're celebrating the New Year in Scotland bring a lump of coal and a piece of bread with you when you enter a person's house for the first time in the new year. This ensures that your friends will be warm and well-fed in the coming year.
